

HWH CARES

Hill Ward Henderson has a long history of giving back to the community. Benjamin H. Hill, III, one of the firm's founders, often tells young lawyers, "Practicing law is a privilege, not a right. As such, we as lawyers have an obligation to give back to our community." This philosophy is so pervasive that it has become integral to firm culture. In fact, giving back to the community is one of the firm's stated requirements for election to shareholder.

The firm's philosophy regarding community involvement is global in nature. We encourage our lawyers to become involved in whatever impassions them, whether professional, civic, charitable or religious in affiliation. As a result, our lawyers are involved in a wide variety of organizations at all levels. The firm supports the endeavors of its attorneys through donations, pro bono work and participation at relevant events. It is this consistent, cohesive effort to improve the Tampa community that has, over the years, created a culture of "giving back."

HWH Scholarship Program

In 2006, Hill Ward Henderson marked its 20th anniversary. To celebrate this milestone, we did not honor the institution but rather its core - the people who make it up and the community that has supported it. A few short months after proposing the idea, our firm had endowed a $100,000 scholarship fund, primarily through attorney, staff and client giving. This fund continues to grow significantly through annual private and firm contributions.

The Hill Ward Henderson Scholarship honors need-based high school seniors with an accomplished academic record, strong character and demonstrated commitment to the community.

HWH Scholarship Endowment at Stetson University College of Law

In 2017, Stetson Law alumni at Hill Ward Henderson started an endowment with the goal of a $25,000 scholarship fund. Our Stetson Law alumni want to provide financial relief to a current law student. It is our hope that each year a scholarship is awarded to a 2L student who exemplifies a commitment to his/her legal studies and community service. The first scholarship was awarded in 2020.

2020-2021 Recipient – Xavier Pereda

Read to Dream

There is a dedicated group of Hill Ward Henderson volunteers that for the last three and a half years have been actively supporting The John Germany Young Readers Initiative "Read to Dream".

A special thank you to Anisha Patel, Evan Dix, Gordon Hill, Janda Owen, Logan Murphy, Ryan McConnell, Jim Robbins, and Kip Marshall.

These volunteers have been committed to regularly traveling to West Tampa Elementary and Edison Elementary Schools to read to and with children in Second through Fourth Grades. Our Hill Ward Henderson team is part of a broader group of volunteers from other law firms and bar association groups which have provided readers to six different schools over the last few years.

Even though the program's main goal is to develop each child's reading comprehension, our interaction with the children has elevated their confidence to read out loud to others and to answer questions relating to the stories. Also, the program encourages the children to read on their own at home by providing books to them in a weekly book give away. The schools participating in the Read to Dream program are elated that their children's standardized reading scores have shown substantial improvement.
