TOBACCO & VAPOR

Our Tobacco & Vapor Team defends cigarette and vapor product manufacturers against personal injury and wrongful death claims. These claims involve a wide range of legal theories and allegations including: negligence, strict liability, breach of express and implied warranty, fraudulent concealment and conspiracy to fraudulently conceal material health information.

The defense of these claims involves complex legal issues, as well as detailed scientific knowledge regarding product design and the manufacturing process. Our attorneys routinely work with medical and scientific experts throughout the country in defending against these claims. Our Tobacco & Vapor Team has successfully defended against these claims across the state of Florida, in both state and federal court, and is well equipped to defend these cases through discovery, trial, and appeal.

EXPERIENCE

- We represent R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company in the Engle progeny litigation and traditional Smoking & Health cases across the state of Florida.
- We represent R.J. Reynolds Vapor Company in product liability actions concerning Vuse vapor products.
