Hill Ward Henderson was a proud sponsor of the 2013 Gasparilla Music Festival (GMF) that was held at downtown Tampa's beautiful Curtis Hixon Waterfront Park & Kiley Gardens. The festival exists to nurture and promote the cultural life of the greater Tampa Bay Area by presenting a range of inspiring musicians and performers across all genres, leading to greater music awareness, education and urban renewal. This affordable outdoor music festival consists of more than 20 musical acts on three stages featuring local and regional musicians combined with established headliners. In just its second year, the festival had over 7,000 individuals in attendance.

Joshua C. Webb, an Associate with the firm, is one of GMF's members of The Ring of Fire, a group of community leaders, area professionals and music enthusiasts. He, along with other members, is committed to helping create a sustainable signature music event in Tampa Bay that promotes arts education and benefits local organizations and businesses. Mr. Webb is a part of the firm's Litigation Group with a general practice focus in commercial litigation, representing clients in a variety of business disputes involving contract and tort claims.
