At Hill Ward Henderson, we have a team of attorneys from a variety of disciplines that work on behalf of clients in the areas of Governmental Relations, Bid Protests and Procurement. The knowledge and experience in working with state and local governments and agencies provide navigation through the often complex maze of statutes, regulations and licensing requirements.

Our attorneys assist clients in review of RFPs (Requests for Proposals), negotiation with public agencies, preparation of contracts, lobbying and handling bid protests. The attorneys in our Governmental Relations Group work closely with other practice groups to provide counsel regarding industry-specific regulatory and compliance guidance.
