TRADE SECRETS

In this age of information and big data, our attorneys understand the importance of proprietary and confidential information for business success. Trade secrets are an essential component of many businesses and can include confidential information such as formulas, processes, customer lists, and other valuable business information. Our experienced attorneys can help you protect your trade secrets and develop effective strategies for safeguarding your confidential information.

We can assist with all aspects of trade secret protection, including trade secret audits, drafting and reviewing confidentiality agreements, and litigation of trade secret misappropriation claims. Our attorneys have a deep understanding of the Uniform Trade Secrets Act (UTSA) and state trade secret laws, as well as the unique challenges that arise in trade secret litigation.
