Matt Lastinger's practice focuses on business combination transactions, venture capital, as well as general corporate advice. He represents public companies in connection with business combination transactions, corporate governance, entity formation and securities reporting and compliance matters. He also represents privately-held companies, private equity and venture capital funds, and institutional investors in a variety of business combination and other transactional matters, including mergers and acquisitions and other strategic investments.

Outside the office, Matt enjoys spending time with his wife and two dogs, Bo and Scout, playing pick-up basketball, cooking for friends and family, and watching Florida Gator football and basketball.
