Ryan Leuthauser prioritizes clients' interests in resolving a broad array of challenges and disputes.

Ryan's practice focuses on business divorces, including non-compete, trade secret, business ownership, and employer-employee disputes. It also includes the litigation of defamation, antitrust, and a variety of warranty, products liability, and other commercial and tort claims.

During law school, Ryan served as a judicial intern for The Honorable Anthony E. Porcelli at the United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida, and for The Honorable Edward C. LaRose at Florida's Second District Court of Appeal.

After graduating from the University of Florida and before attending law school, Ryan worked for seven years in supply chain management at the world's largest third-party logistics company. Outside of the office, Ryan cherishes time with his wife, daughter, and two dogs, and supports live music events and cheering on the Florida Gators.
