Hill Ward Henderson was a proud sponsor of the inaugural Alpha House of Tampa Alpha Challenge. The event was a full day of fun field-day games and races for all ages and fitness levels including several themed events highlighting the mission of Alpha House of Tampa. These themed events included the stroller obstacle course, the baby-carrier distance run and the diaper relay. The Alpha House of Tampa offers homeless pregnant women and mothers with young children the tools they need to become self-sufficient and effective, responsible parents. The non-profit organization assists women of all ages, races and backgrounds by providing safe housing, parenting classes, counseling, life skills, vocational training and spiritual support.
